

Astounding Scandal Of Post War Inflation And Intrigue In Germany

Mrs. Sheatsley Dead Before Body Put In Furnace, Says Chemist

COLUMBUS, O., November 22.—(By the United Press)—The veil of mystery was lifted from the Sheatsley furnace tragedy today just enough to make the circumstances of her death even more puzzling.

The startling revelation that Mrs. Addie Sheatsley met death by strangulation or suffocation and that her body was not stuffed into the fire box until after she had stopped breathing, was made to John R. King, Franklin county prosecutor, late last night by Charles Long, the chemist, who analyzed her charred remains.

The prosecutor was apparently stunned by this unexpected turn in the strange case to which he has given every minute of his time since Mrs. Sheatsley's death.

The chemist reported to King upon the prosecutor's return to Columbus near midnight from Canton where he had questioned relatives of the furnace victim in a fruitless attempt to find support for his belief that she was murdered.

"This is much worse than I had expected," King said after reading the report of the analysis. "I can only say that we will now redouble our efforts. Nothing will be spared to find a solution of this most baffling mystery."

Chemist's Report
Long's analytical report disclosed:
1—An intense congestion of the lungs such as might result from strangulation or suffocation.

2—Not a trace of carbon monoxide, which certainly would have been inhaled had Mrs. Sheatsley entered the furnace alive.

3—No trace of carbonic acid, (Carbon, one of the pastor's sons, had reported that a bottle of acid was missing from the bath room and a piece of broken glass was found in the ash of the furnace.)

4—A trace of wood or ashes which might have been breathed into the lungs.

"I am absolutely positive of the absence of carbon monoxide in the blood," Long declared. "I obtained three ounces and submitted it to five different tests. In all of them, the blood was shown to be positively normal."

Newspaper men here immediately communicated with Mr. Sheatsley, who with his four children, is staying with relatives at Paris, O., where Mrs. Sheatsley was buried, the information which the report had revealed.

The pastor, since Wednesday, had held strongly to the belief that his wife ended her own life by crawling into the fire box during a sudden seizure of insanity, and has given King voluminous evidence to support his belief.

Pastor Says It Is Up To Prosecutor
"It is up to King," Rev. Sheatsley said, when told of the disclosures. "I can only say that I am glad of any information that may be found. I can say nothing for or against it. I am glad what has been told me as information and that is all."

The investigation now awaits the report of Dr. H. M. Brundage, pathologist, who also is examining the lungs and thorax of the furnace victim, for additional evidence as to how Mrs. Sheatsley met death.

Meanwhile King today ordered detectives, who were ready to report to him that they had turned up nothing of importance, to return to the exclusive Huxley residential district where the Sheatsley home is located, and scour the neighborhood once more for reports of strange characters who may have been lurking about near the parsonage some time before the finding of the body.

Shipwreck, Exposure, Hunger and Thirst Told of By Survivors

BOSTON, November 22.—(By the Associated Press)—A story of shipwreck, long exposure in an open boat, hunger and thirst was told today by Mrs. L. R. Bishop, of Malden, sea-going wife of the skipper of the schooner Susan B.

With Miss Katherine Woodworth, her 18-year-old niece, Captain Bishop, John Bishop, their son, who was the schooner's mate, and three members of the crew, the 60-year-old woman who had been to sea 27 years, was landed here after her first ship wreck by the steamer City of Atlantic, which had picked up the party from a yawl off the Virginia Cape.

The seven, huddled in the open boat for 53 hours, with food rendered unobtainable by salt water, attracted the attention of their rescuers by waving a blanket. Three times other vessels passed them, their lookouts failing to see skirts and petticoats waved by the women.

"We could not have stood it much longer," Mrs. Bishop said.

Stories that Miss Woodworth had kept the spirits of the ship wrecked ones alive by song, had preceded her ashore. But this she declined. "How could one sing under such circumstances? But we did try to brave," was her remark.

The women first, then the crew and last the skipper went over the side. Captain Bishop missed his footing as he let himself down from the pitching decks and fell into the water. Then Wilbury S. Jerrod, a seaman, plunged overboard, stroked his way to the growing captain as he rose, took him in tow. They were helped aboard. As they drifted Monday and Tuesday, through succeeding day and night, the seagulls became exhausted as they waved blankets and dresses in futile attempts to attract attention. They had drifted eighty miles when picked up.

Gets Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, November 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Howard M. Gore, of West Virginia, was today appointed secretary of agriculture to succeed the late Henry C. Wallace.

Mr. Gore, who has been serving as acting secretary since the death of Mr. Wallace, can serve only until next March 4, when he becomes governor of his home state.

Mr. Gore has been connected with the department for several years. He is now engaged more particularly in working out the estimates in connection with the budget bureau for next year's appropriations and because of his acquaintance with these questions his selection was considered most appropriate by the administration.

Mr. Gore also had been endorsed for the post by several farm leaders and farm organizations.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Prophecy of post election prosperity was fulfilled here today when crisp, new five, ten and twenty dollar bills floated into town on the waters of Lima Creek.

The Crossing a bridge over the creek, Mrs. Mary Tibbs observed several packets of money floating down the stream. The corner of a $20 bill protruded from one of the packets and she summoned her nephew, Minard Theides, who salvaged two of the bills.

A general rush of men and boys to the creek followed. Several $5 bills were fished out but the other packets, which Mrs. Tibbs said she observed, had floated away.

When the bills were dried out they were pronounced good legal tender at the Fertile Bank. Police said it was probable the bills were thrown into the creek by robbers, possibly many miles up stream.

ROMA.—While a committee of the Chamber of Deputies is drafting the law applying to the Sinclair concessions, several deputies are scheduled to speak against it.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—While President Coolidge is disinclined to call an extra session of Congress after next March, he is not definitely and irrevocably committed against such a policy.

The question becomes pertinent now in view of the widespread discussion, especially in the press, of the administration's policy with reference to tax revision. The impression has gone out that the country must wait until the winter of 1926 for its next cut in taxes, nearly a year and a half after the overwhelming Republican victory in which the Mellon tax plan and tax reform itself was an issue.

But the administration did not intend that its announcement of unwillingness to tackle tax reform until after the receipts from the present law are known in March or April next should be taken in conjunction with the more or less uncertain question of calling Congress into session.

The Treasury is insistent that the present law should be given a chance to work. Senator Smoot, chairman of the Finance Committee, says the Treasury will know definitely how productive the new law has been when the income tax returns are filed on next March 15. Many newspaper editorials have

Town to Be Blind to Blind Pigs; "Secedes" From Canadian Dry Act

TORONTO, November 22.—(By the United Press)—Municipally, Sturgeon's Falls, henceforth, will be blind to blind pigs. No longer will it let after bootleggers. The word "Dry" will be only a memory.

The town has seceded from the Ontario government, or at least from the Ontario temperance act, the town council having pronounced the act "Null and Void," and instructed the police force to take no further hand in the enforcement.

Sturgeon Falls is in the far north, where for months if not years, the lumbering and mining centers have talked secession.

At the Ontario legislature on October 23, Sturgeon Falls recorded a vote of 1,040 for government control and only 102 for prohibition. Police Chief Cussons' job has been threatened if he enforces the temperance act.

British Public Aroused Over Murder
LONDON, November 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The British public is expecting and the majority of the London press is demanding that the government take firm action toward Egypt in connection with the assassination in Cairo of Major General Sir Lee Stack, governor-general of the Sudan and Sirdar of the Egyptian army. The opinion is widely expressed that, notwithstanding the Egyptian officials' compliance with the customary formalities and their expressions of regret, the murder was actually a political crime originating in a desire to oust the British from the Sudan.

The Daily Mail editorially demands that Great Britain revoke its grant of independence to Egypt, which it maintains has shown a lack of political capacity. The other commentators are less drastic, but contend that Egypt must be run by a British official, not by a native ruler.

Powers Combine To Restore Order
(BY LEIDWEL J. DENNY)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, November 22.—(By the United Press)—The United States and the other great powers have combined to restore political order and financial stability to China.

The most important diplomatic conference in the Far East in years is now going on in Peking, with representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan working in concert on instructions from their respective governments on a plan to be offered to the Peking government as to the price of foreign recognition.

It proposes that the Chinese government ask an international commission of experts to study and suggest a reorganization of Chinese finances.

This so-called "Chinese Davies plan" would attempt to balance the budget and enable a later political conference to grant the necessary increased tariff revenues. China would then be able to undertake needed economic development and also begin the amortization of her defaulted foreign debts, it is said.

This was learned here today from unquestioned sources which said the plan being evolved is first and foremost in China's own interest and not primarily for the protection of foreign interests. The plan involves offers of diplomatic and economic support in restoration without any form of intervention.

One of the first conditions of foreign support and assistance is agreement among the warring Chinese factions, whose jealousies and bickerings have been responsible for the recent civil war.

Do Not Approve Treaties
LONDON, Nov. 22.—(U. P.)—Foreign Minister Chamberlain today sent a note to Russian Ambassador Rakovsky declaring the new British government is not able to recommend approval of treaties between Great Britain and Russia signed by the labor government of former Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

Chamberlain took up the Zinoviev letter, which Russia has declared a forgery, in a separate note replying to the communication of the Russian government on this subject.

"The British government cannot accept the assertion that this letter is a forgery," the foreign minister said, "because such assertions are disproved by reference to the official publications and the daily press of Russia."

In conclusion the foreign minister says:

Information in the hands of the British government leaves no doubt whatever in their mind as to the authenticity of the Zinoviev letter. (Continued On Page Eleven)

Russ' Dancers, Balkans And Germans Are Involved

(BY CARL D. GROAT)
BERLIN, November 22.—(By the United Press)—An astounding scandal of post-war inflation and intrigue, in which beautiful Russian dancers, Balkan governments and post-war profiteers were inextricably tangled, has been uncovered here.

Almost hourly, new and amazing revelations are being added as the German government digs into the graft and muck of inflation days. The scandal arises from the alleged bribery of Chief Walter Bartels, of the Berlin police president's foreign section.

The revelations show how millions are juggled by post-war profiteers operating on meagre capital; how the profiteers were protected by the police president's inner ring; how the Prussian state finance ministry shielded one of these speculators; how the Prussian state bank yielded unhesitatingly millions of gold marks for doubtful ventures; how the Prussian government was entangled in one of these "Schieber" deals; how pretty "Tamara," the wondrous Russian beauty, was used to inveigle Chief Bartels into the meshes of the Russian speculation-gambling net.

Other scandals in quick succession.

The scandal involving Bartels, who had almost life and death powers reaching permits for foreigners to remain in Germany, followed closely upon revelations of shocking irregularities in connection with the alcoholic traffic. For the latter, a prominent criminal commissar was held, charged with helping companies to avoid payments of millions of marks in alcoholic duties.

Then followed rapidly the scandal involving a youthful secretary of the ministry of justice, who fled after embarking hundreds of thousands of gold marks which he spent upon extravagant parties of wine and women, to say nothing of embezzlement of considerable sums in the police lost and found department.

Evidence thus far disclosed indicates that Bartels protected Michael Holzmann, a Russian trader in doubtful enterprises and for these favors the police chief enjoyed those of "Tamara" at little private wine parties. Bartels also enjoyed a private account deposited for him by Holzmann in a discreet little bank.

Had Special Police Protection
Holzmann, it develops had special police protection from Bartels—an officer named Rohde who apparently helped the credit enterprises by representing himself in the Russian's behalf as a nationalist deputy. Holzmann, after obtaining many thousands of marks from a Russian countess named Ivan Kutscher in connection with doubtful deals over stolen of war time railroad supplies at Harbin, was denounced by Kutscher. It developed that Kutscher also had his own protective sources within the police precinct, but the

The men claim that the company officials refused to deal with them as union representatives. Is the primary reason for the walkout while the officials of the line that the "closed shop" issue and an increase in the wages from 55c an hour to 75 cents an hour, is at the bottom of their demands.

Harris Ordered To Pay

Following a hearing in Common Pleas court Saturday, Judge Thomas entered an order requiring Wesley Harris, coke worker, to pay his wife, Lella Harris, 1223 Twelfth street, the sum of $10 a week as alimony for the support of herself and three minor children.

The wife stated that Harris abandoned his family last July for the associations of one Nettie Siebert and declared that since he had taken up with the other woman had not supported her and their children properly. Attorneys Blair and Blair appeared for plaintiff.

Agrees To Pay

By agreement Charles Rolf will pay his wife, Francine Rolf the sum of $10 a week as temporary alimony according to an approval entry filed in the office of the clerk of court Saturday, pending the final hearing of his action for divorce. Rolf will also pay her counsel, Attorneys Blair and Blair a fee of $25 to enable her to defend the case.

Taken Under Advisement

After hearing arguments on the motion for a new trial in the case of Mrs. Lila June Merriman, spiritist, convicted recently by a jury in Common Pleas court of obtaining money by false pretenses, Judge Thomas Saturday took the matter under advisement.

The principal reason advanced by the defense in urging a new trial was that one of the jurors, who sat in the case had formed and expressed an opinion before he was accepted as a juror.

Attorneys J. T. Micklethwait and A. R. Campbell, Jr., appeared in support of the motion and prosecuting attorney S. Anselm Skelton and Attorney C. M. Seall in opposition.

Evidence in the divorce suit of Zeina M. Perrelli against David C. Perrelli, 320 Center street, Ironton, whom she married in November, 1920, was partially heard by Judge Thomas, in Common Pleas court Saturday and then continued for further testimony on behalf of the plaintiff in support of her charges of neglect and infidelity.

The wife told the court that Perrelli continually sought the association of women of immoral character and that he frequently visited and appeared on the street with female friends. She further declared that he squandered his money in gambling and that she had supported herself since their separation in July 1923, by working in a local store.

Charges Neglect and Cruelty

Lucy Wallace, 1211 Front street, charges neglect and cruelty in her suit for divorce from Charles Wallace, 312 Fourth street, instituted Saturday in Common Pleas court.

Plaintiff in her petition filed through Attorney George W. Sheppard says she married Wallace in April 1917, and then complains that he has failed to support her properly and declares he has beaten and compelled her to support herself.

Continued For Further Evidence

The divorce suit of Moses Marcum 2821 Gallia street, N. & W. employe, against Helen Marcum, 1517 Poplar street, was partially heard by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Saturday and then continued for further evidence.

Marcum said they were married in Nolan, W. Va., in January 1921, and declared that he was compelled to leave her two years ago because she neglected him for the associations of other men.

The wife denied his charges and accused him of cruelty, infidelity and failing to support her properly during the time she lived with him. She told the court that she was but 14 years old when she married Marcum.

Attorney A. R. Campbell, Jr., appeared for Marcum and Attorney J. T. Micklethwait for the child-wife.

KENNY HEADS LOCAL JUNIOR C. OF C.

At an enthusiastic and well attended meeting last night, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce elected officers as follows: G. C. Kenny, president; R. J. McNamara, first vice president; H. C. Grimes, 2nd vice president; Richard Anderson, secretary; Richard Taylor, treasurer. These officers, excepting the secretary, with three other members will make up the board of directors. The three members at large are: Carl Roth, Robert Gilbert and Howard Evans.

Having effected an organization, the members will apply for a charter in the National Organization at once, being assured by Carl Graesser, president of the Cincinnati chapter, and member of the board of directors of the National Organization, that one would be granted upon request. Mr. Graesser has shown quite an interest in the organizing of the local chapter, and has been in Portsmouth twice to give all the help possible. The purpose of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is to incorporate the younger men of the country to work hand in hand with the Senior Chamber. It is not a new organization, but has been active in national efforts of the country for several years, and is recognized and backed by the Senior organization. So far, there are about twenty active members in the local chapter.

Gee to Be Given Hearing Monday; Police Learn That Clothing Stolen Here Was Sold in Ironton

Claude W. Gee, 26, 1641 Highland avenue, arrested Thursday night at his work in the N. & W. shops and now charged with breaking and entering the A. A. Wilson home 1637 Highland, next door to the Gee home on the night of October 1, appeared in Municipal court before Judge Sprague Saturday morning. The young man's attorney Guy Blair asked that a preliminary hearing be postponed until Monday, Judge Sprague then fixed bond at $1500.

Gee suspected immediately following the robbery at the Wilson home on account of his past record was allowed to go about his work and pleasures with the impression that no one suspected him of the robbery where lost amounting to about $800 was obtained in clothing and jewelry.

Thursday night when police found jewelry on him that they identified as part of the Wilson loot they soon broke down his story that he did not know anything about it. Gee was taken into custody in connection with the theft of tools from the Wilson home, which were found belonging to the N. & W. being found in his machine.

MANY ROBBERIES CLEARED UP IN ARREST OF LOCAL MAN

William Manuel, Nabbed in Levi Store Admits Entering 13 Business Places, Police Aver; Caught Red-Handed

Captured while in the act of burglarizing the office of the Samuel Levi Furniture company, Gallia street, shortly after six o'clock this morning and his confession, which followed shortly after his arrival at the police station, William Manuel, 24, 1125 Tenth street, aided the police in clearing up more than a dozen robberies that have occurred in the past few weeks. Manuel admitted visiting fourteen separate places of business and of this number succeeded in getting into the business rooms in thirteen cases. All of his jobs were small ones and in some places could be classed as petty thieving. He is held at the city prison on a charge of breaking and entering the Levi store. Chief of Police Arthur succeeded in writing the confession from Manuel soon after he was placed behind the bars of the city jail.

Manuel had gained entrance to the furniture store by jumping a rear window and was discovered at work in the office of the store by A. J. "Doc" Finch, a salesman, when he opened the establishment for the day's business. Finch cornered the burglar in the office and held him until Orin Catlin, another employee of the firm, arrived a few moments later, and notified police headquarters. Patrolman Charles Bard responded and took charge of the prisoner. The Levi store was the fourth place of business he had visited early this morning. After breaking into the barber shop of J. H. Jackson and Son in the Lehman building, Fourth street, just east of Chillicothe, he went upstairs into the two suites of offices occupied by the Bennett and Chandler Insurance agency and H. K. Williams who conducts a collection agency. Here he broke open desks in his search for valuable. Downstairs in the barber shop he obtained about $2 in change from the cigar case and pilfered two razors.

Other places Manuel confessed to breaking into were the Smoke House, Pennant pool room, Wm. Haley barber shop, Columbia theatre, Singer Sewing Machine office, A. and P. grocery, on Gallia street, next door to the Singer place, George Freund's pharmacy, Wurster Bros., Summers and Son music store and Service Drug Company, Fourth and Chillicothe streets.

Through Roof Door
At the Smoke House he gained entrance through a roof door, obtaining in loot two fountain pens, two silver pencils and $12.

At the Pennant pool room he got $8. From the Freund pharmacy he obtained $12 and a pocket book while at the Wurster pharmacy his loot was $5, a watch and flashlight.

At the Service Drug Company's new store he stole a sweater owned by George McElm.

At the A. and P. grocery he stole $10 and at the music store $2.

Doll clothes formed the loot at the Singer place of business.

Manuel also admitted that he was the person who made an unsuccessful attempt to break into the Tausig store on Chillicothe street. He claims he never visited homes, the Play House or Selby employees' recreational room.

When searched at the police station he had two fountain pens, two silver pencils, flashlight, one ring, 1 box of rouge, an Eastern Star pin, and doll clothes.

Manuel admitted that a tire changing tool and a screw driver found at the Levi store this morning were the tools he used in forcing entrance to the places he visited.

De Molays and Dads Enjoy a Real Banquet

De Molay boys and their dads had the time of their lives, last night, at the Father and Son banquet held in the dining room of the Masonic Temple. The De Molays are all regular fellows, and their dads proved beyond all doubt, last night, that they are entitled to a place in the front row of that same classification.

While, of course, the program might have been divided into two classes, the "feds" and the "babies," there is just one classification for the entire affair, and that is "A No. 1."

Rev. Harold Holt, rector of All Saints Episcopal church, and member of the Burr Chapter Advisory Council, opened the ceremonies, commenting upon the splendid fellowship between the boys and their dads, and introduced Clinton Drake, Master Counselor of Burr Chapter, who acted as toastmaster. Counselor Drake filled this important chair in a most acceptable manner, and kept things moving in a splendid spirit throughout the evening.

There were a number of interesting speeches from heads of various Masonic bodies in the city, and the boys and dads enjoyed every one of them. The program included addresses by William Clayton, President of the Portsmouth Shrine Club; Robert T. Halslip, Eminent Commander of Calvary Commandery Knights Templars; and Roscoe Donohoe, Senior Warden of Aurora Lodge No. 48, E. & A. M. and E. V. Leach, Monarch of Yezdigard grove.

After the addresses by the Masons, Toastmaster Drake called on De Molay Hillborn Lloyd to respond for the boys, and in a short speech young Mr. Lloyd pledged the support of Burr Chapter for the high ideals of the Masonic bodies.

DIG MILITARY FUNERAL

FOR GEN. LEE STACK

Calro, Egypt, Nov. 22—Orders for the funeral tomorrow of Major General Sir Lee Stack, governor of the Sudan, and Sirdar of the Egyptian army, who died Thursday night from wounds he received at the hands of assassins the day before, have been issued by Lieut. General Sir Richard Haking, in command of the British troops in Egypt.

There will be a grand military display, troops of all arms lining the route of the funeral cortege, with batteries firing salutes at minute intervals. The members of the Egyptian Senate and Chamber will stand in the public square as the funeral procession passes and the members of the cabinet will attend the services at All Saints Church.

BURGARS USE MOTOR TRUCKS

Cleveland, O., Nov. 22—Burglars with a motor truck, carted away suitings and overcoat fabrics valued at $6,000 from the William Bryar Company, merchant tailors, last night. Wm. Bryan, manager, estimated that approximately 1200 yards of cloth was stolen. The stock was cleaned out and will have to be restocked before continuing business, Mr. Bryan said.

PRIVATE YACHT IS FIRED ON

MIAMI, FLA., Nov. 22—The cruiser yacht Cocoon with the owner M. M. Belding, wealthy New York silk manufacturer abroad, was fired on by Coast Guard patrol boats shortly after dusk tonight, two miles off Miami and boarded and searched, Mr. Belding reported here tonight.

Shots from two one-pounders were fired on the Cocoon as the craft, with a party of Mr. Belding's friends returning from a fishing trip, headed toward the Government Cut and Biscayne Bay. After boarding the Cocoon, guns drawn, and making a search of the vessel, Coast Guard officers expressed regret that the incident had occurred.

The first shot heard by the party on the yacht was not recognized as such, but a second shot, which followed was answered by blasts from the Cocoon's whistle to come alongside. When the patrol boat drew near, the Cocoon threw its searchlight on the government vessel and was greeted with violent language, according to those on the yacht.

The Cocoon, guarded by patrol boats, stemmed into the government cut where it stopped and was boarded, the manufacturer said.

Mr. Belding will protest to Washington and demand that a complete investigation be made of the incident.

WOMAN CLAIMS DRY

AGENTS ATTACKED HER

Tolono, O., Nov. 22—E. Unkari, 26, and Jack Melzer, 35, state prohibition agents, were arrested here today on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Bertha Wiedman, whose home was raided Wednesday.

The woman says Unkari, who lives in Columbus, and Melzer, who came from Lorain, knocked her unconscious when she objected to their method of searching the house. The case was continued in police court until December 3.

SCHWAB SAYS NATION

DINK FOR ITS GREATEST PROSPERITY PERIOD

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 22—"The United States is due for its greatest period of prosperity," Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, said today on his arrival here to pay tribute to Andrew Carnegie at birthday exercises of the dead iron master at Carnegie Institute.

"Business is going ahead on the firmest foundation I have ever known," said Schwab. "Business men generally have been imbued with confidence as a result of the election and are making plans accordingly."

The record breaking sales of the stock market were only of general interest to Schwab. "I'm only interested in our own stock," the other fellows can make the millions," he said.

Sale of Christmas Seals Helps to Stamp Out Tuberculosis Among Hundreds of Children

The campaign against the Great White Plague is being concentrated for the benefit of children, the Ohio Public Health Association, says in a statement issued to Dr. Harry Rapp, chairman of the Exchange Club Christmas Seal committee in this city. The Exchange Club is sponsoring the sale of Christmas Seals in this county.

Discussing the anti-tuberculosis work being done, the Association's statement says:

"There are many reasons why we should concentrate our efforts on the child in the tuberculosis campaign. In the first place the response of tubercular children to methods of cure is more rapid than for adults. In a single decade between 1910 and 1920—century years, for which we have accurate statistics the decline in tuberculosis mortality among infants (under 1) was 46 per cent, among children (1-14), 38 per cent, while among adults the decline was only about 25 per cent.

"If as census figures indicate, there are 4,000 children of school age dying each year from tuberculosis, the community is losing in the aggregate over 200,000 years of life. The life expectancy at birth is at the present time about 55 years and this remains about the same through the school ages or, at least until the age 14.

"Intensive studies made among school children has shown that about ten per cent of all school children, under high school age, are underweight. This means that their resistance to all diseases as well as tuberculosis is lessened. It is on the theory that tuberculosis is a deficiency disease as well as an infectious disease that we are establishing and operating camps and teaching the importance of diet and eating proper foods to build up resistance against the disease. In all our camps special care is taken to see that the children gain in weight. Children in our schools are being taught health habits and the value of foods they should eat.

"Educators place health among projects of major importance in our schools.

From reliable sources are coming reports that the prices of clover seed will continue to mount until seeding time next spring. The prices at present are considerably higher than at any time last year. Farmers are warned against purchasing seeds from unknown sources, by crop specialists. They point out that high prices always tend to cause large shipments of foreign unacclimated seed into this country, which is sold to the farmer under the name of home grown seed and is not detected until the clover is and not detected to which it is not accustomed. Farmers are being urged to place orders now to protect themselves against further advances in price, and to use extreme caution that they secure home grown, northern seed.

Parson-Cop
The town of Bremen, in the center of Ohio's richest oil field, has ordered a parson-tower to be placed on a proacher-tower. Rev. I. L. Manning, "straight-shooting" parson, is busy enforcing the law on week days, and preaching in the Baptist church on Sundays. Popular subscriptions are paying his salary.

WOMAN ACID THROWER GETS THREE YEARS FOR MAIMING FORMER LOVER
Columbus, Nov. 22—Plea of guilty to maiming her former lover, George B. Hackney, by throwing acid in his face, May 18, in a county court, Mrs. Grace Dolby, 35, mother of three small children, and former special deputy sheriff, was sentenced to a minimum of three years in the Marysville Reformatory. Hackney's death, which left four other minor children orphaned, was due to his inhaling fumes of the poison, according to Assistant Prosecutor Thomas M. Dolby, who had been sued for criminal negligence before the acid throwing. Mrs. Dolby had been accused of several minor offenses before the court. All were meaningless. The two sons were soon revived but physicians stated both women were badly burned and their recovery was doubtful.

AGED CHILDREN SAVE MOTHER, 90, FROM FLAMES
Cincinnati, Nov. 22—Franklin and daughters of two aged sons and one daughter, who were in a small room at their home near the city, were saved from the flames by the children. The two sons were soon revived but physicians stated both women were badly burned and their recovery was doubtful.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 15 and considered very pretty by all who know me. My mother is dead and you are the only person in this wide world that I can come to with my troubles. Dolly, the busy-bodies in this town think I am a regular town-boy or rough neck or what ever you want to call me. Perhaps a hard-scram would be a better name for me, but I'm not that at all. I am just trying to tell you what they think I am. I do go out with the boys occasionally, but never alone. There are always crowds. Dolly, I love crowds, don't you? We have a car, or at least my brother-in-law and sister have one and of course I stay with them, and I think I have a claim on it to. Well, Dolly, one night I was learning to run my brother-in-law's car and in helping me, he had his arm around me. Someone saw me and told my sister, and my word! you should have heard her rave. Didn't they pull a horse? Dolly, I like my brother-in-law, as everyone should like their in-laws, but he is the last man on earth that I would think of making love to, or letting make love to me. My sister won't believe me when I tell her this. She thinks we were out spooning and I can't make her believe anything else. Dolly, what am I to do? She says if we will admit that we were, she will forgive us if we never do it again, but I'm not going to own up to something that I didn't do. Dolly, what shall I do?

It was not at all necessary for your brother-in-law to put his arm around you when he was teaching you to drive the car. Your sister has reason to resent such a thing. Tell her you are sorry, and that you in the future want her to advise you, and help you to conduct yourself in such a way that people will admire you and will not say unfavorable things about you. A girl of your age is apt to be im-

Comes Back

Kathie Schmitt, the actress, who for years was the most intimate friend of the late Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria had, has decided to return to her "public." She has just signed a contract to appear at the social rooms at Second Presbyterian church in gala attire last evening when the young women of the Opportunity Auxiliary conducted a bazaar and presented a playlet.

From 1:30 until 10 o'clock a host of interested ones attended the bazaar where attractive booths displayed numerous articles, fancy and practical which made splendid sales. Candy and refreshment booths presided over by members of the Auxiliary were successful sources of sales.

At 8:30, a playlet, "Cheer Up, Chad," drew a large audience. The cast of characters were as follows: Chadwick Barnett, misundestood owner of the Barnett Company; Alfred Millard; June Crawford, one of Chad's stenographers, who disapproved of him; Mildred Brown Deering; Ramsey Fullerton, one of the rich and a friend of Chad; Alfred Deering; Sam Warren, an influential country gentleman; Earl Hayes; Mrs. Burton, a modish up-to-date widow; Katherine Roth Hayes; Dexter, a shrewd business partner of Chad; Donald Oakes; Susie, a witty girl of sixteen; Helen V. Corbin; Vivian Westerman, an egotistical young aristocrat; Jane K. Presler; Susie Jackson, a friend of June; Helen D. Baughman.

Mrs. Burton managed Sam Warren admirably, while Alfred Millard as Chadwick Barnett made a second Rudolph Valentino, as a lover to June Crawford (Mildred Brown Deering), who portrayed her part like a professional, winning the audience whenever she appeared on the stage.

Susie kept the audience in an uproar of laughter through-out the evening. The part of Dexter played by Donald Oakes, could not have been surpassed. From the time Vivian Westerman entered the stage until she left she was indeed the selfish, snobbish aristocrat.

The part of Ramsey Fullerton, a close friend of Chad, was cleverly played by Alfred Deering and won the applause of the audience from time to time.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Enlitt of 914 15th street are the proud parents of a daughter, born Thursday evening. Mr. Enlitt is employed at the Brecoo Mfg. Plant.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Central Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar, Wednesday at the Tracy-Craigmillers Furniture store on Gallia street. All kinds of home made good things to eat will be on sale.

The women's City Club will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Horst, 713 Waller street, when Mr. Charles Hard, will be the principal speaker.

A solo will be given by Mrs. O. J. Deitzler and Phyllis and Gretchen Russ, will give a piano duet.

Mrs. James Hannah will be chairman for the afternoon and the committee includes Mrs. Glen Rardin, Mrs. Ralph Delamater, Mrs. Charles Horst, and Mrs. H. E. Cook.

Woman, Hanging Children And Self, Feared Insanity Near

CANTON, O., November 22.—(By the United Press)—Three notes left behind by Mrs. Ruth Buckner, 32, of Massillon, who sometime Friday morning hanged her two children and herself in the basement of their home, indicated that the woman "feared she was losing her mind."

The sheets of paper upon which the last notes to members of her family were written, were torn from an ordinary school tablet. The writing was even and the sentences well composed.

In all the notes the remaining members of the family were urged to "be good," and the only reference made to the two dead children was "that Nellie May and Doland were dead."

The little bodies of Nellie May, 8, and Donald, Jr., 7, and the mother were cut down by Chief of Police Ed M. Krille, and Patrolman Oliver, who were called to the house by Donald Buckhart, father of the children.

Two of the notes were written after the lives of the two children had been sacrificed on the rafters of the cellar.

The first note read: "Dear Don: Forgive me for what I have done, but my head, oh, I believe I am insane. Please, oh please, let mama have my little grace and be good to her. Tell mama not to worry, I couldn't help myself. Maybe it is for the best. Please dress us all in white, the money in the drawer, give to mama for my baby some clothes. Good bye. Be good to my baby and be good yourself. Kiss my baby for me and tell her to be a good girl to her grandma and Aunt Lucille. Good-bye, Don, and may God forgive me."

The second note: "Dear Don: Oh, forgive me. My Donald and Nellie May are dead and I am going now. Tell mother to be good to my baby and you be good too."

"Good-bye, God forgive me, kiss my baby for me."

The third note was addressed to the baby, Grace.

In this note the demented mother said she wanted her baby to be good to her grandma and the money referred to as being in a drawer, was found in the envelope containing the note, indicating that the note had been written after the two children had been hung, the rafters. The bodies were found by the father at 1:15 p. m. on his return home from a hunting trip.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

WOODENHEAD

Down Pippin Hill he went looking about his feelings.

"Some say that I run up. Or else that I run down. Which mixes me most dreadfully, for anyone with eyes can see I couldn't move for the life of me. If the house was burning down."

"I haven't feather or wing. Though some say I'm a flight! It's the silliest talk I've ever heard, I'm no relation to a bird, Or an airplane either, on my word, I'm nailed down fast and tight."

"They talk about my head. They speak about my foot, Which puzzles me more each single day. And I wonder why they talk that way. If I've the things that people say, I know not where they're put."

"Sometimes I'm one or ten, But they speak of me in pairs. Why I'm not scissors, I am not twins, Or fancy ear-rings, or gold cuff-links. Now try to be careful—watch out for your shins. As you chase down or race down the way."

"That was the next riddle the Riddle Lady asked. 'Will you please to say it all over again?' asked Slow. 'I couldn't quite catch it. I'm all mixed up.' 'That's what the — There!' said the Riddle Lady. 'I nearly gave it away. Yes, I'll say it over again very slowly. Now listen, everybody. (Copyright 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

JURY RECOMMENDS MERCY

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 22.—Daniel M. Boone, 24, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in common pleas court yesterday afternoon.

The jury's verdict carried a recommendation for mercy which automatically precluded the possibility of the convicted man forfeiting his life for the crime for which he was found guilty.

Boone was tried and convicted for first degree murder, in connection with the fatal assault last July on Taylor Rutherford, 54, a crippled huckster at his home in the rear of lower Third avenue.

HELPED HER IN EVERY WAY

So Writes Mrs. Trombley of Sharon, Vt., Concerning Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharon, Vermont.—"I was weak and run-down, had a tired feeling and bearing-down pains. I saw an advertisement in the newspaper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began taking it. It has stopped these bearing-down pains and other troubles and feelings, and has helped me in every way. I have so much faith in the Vegetable Compound that I keep it on hand all of the time and recommend it whenever I have the opportunity." Mrs. Lewis Thimbley, Sharon, Vermont.

Glad to Help Others

"I had pains in my back and sides for many months, and my work would have to be left undone at those times. My sister told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing her, so I tried it, and from the third bottle I was well and every one thought I looked better. I am glad to help others regain their health, and you may use my testimonial."

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — LANKY LAND

It was a much different place than where the midgits lived. The room had a very tall ceiling and doorways that led to other rooms were just about wide enough for the lanky men to pass through. As Jack looked around, another lanky man came through one of the doorways.

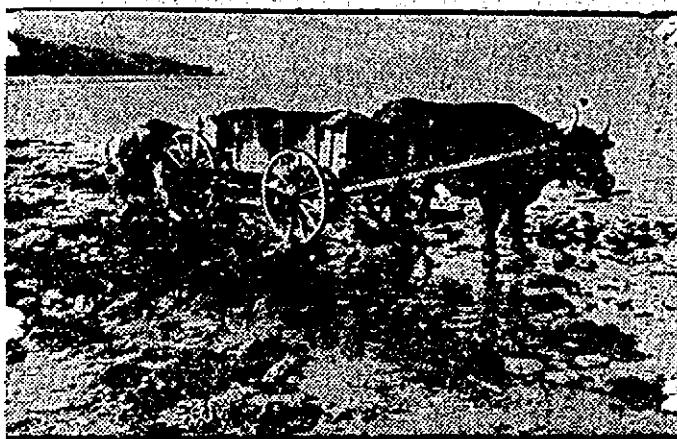

"We have just built an automobile," he shouted, "and one of our men is going to try and drive it. Before come and see the fun." So Jack's friend, the Sign Man, introduced the little adventurer to the newcomer. Jack laughed, as the man leaned way over to shake hands. (Continued.)

Decision Starts Row

At Fight; Haley Barre

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(By AP)—

Lon "Kim" Kaplan, of Meriden, Conn., and Danie Kramer, of Philadelphia, were the survivors last night in the preliminaries at Madison Square Garden to determine the bearer of the featherweight boxing crown. All of the victories were by knockout and the vote in favor of Kramer caused a near riot.

Dick Hurley, manager of Mike Dundee, was barred from boxing in New York State forever. In consequence of an attack on Referee Patsy Haley after the decision put Hurley's boxer out of the tournament. Hurley kicked over a stool in the corner when he climbed from the ring as the crowd rose to its feet. Police rushed from all sides and finally escorted the irate manager from the hall.

Tremaine Wins
TOLEDO, Nov. 22.—Carl Tremaine, Cleveland bantamweight last night decisively defeated Bobby Wolgast of Philadelphia in 12 rounds.

Tommy Murray of Philadelphia outboxed Louis d'Arco of Cleveland in 12 rounds.

Sage Is Winner
DETROIT, Nov. 22.—Bob Sage, Detroit won the judge's decision over Billy Britton, New York middleweight, in a ten round bout. Sage was credited with seven of the ten rounds.

K. O. Jeanie, Toledo, lightweight, won the judge's decision over Red Herring, Biloxi, Miss., in a ten round bout on the same card.

"HARD BOILED COPPER"
PLANS TO DRIVE THUGS FROM CHICAGO HAVEN
Chicago, Nov. 22.—A general shake-up in the police department is imminent, it was made known here today as the chief of detectives, Captain William Schoonmaker, noted as a "hard boiled" copper, made his plans for driving the gunmen out of Chicago. Mayor Dwyer and Chief of Police Collins have given Schoonmaker orders to stop at nothing in his clean-up campaign.

Schoonmaker is known to favor replacing many of the detectives with "hard boiled coppers" who will not be intimidated. More than 100 changes in the detective bureau are expected. Several shifts have already been made.

Captain Michael Hughes former chief of detectives who resigned rather than accept demotion, is planned to make a fight on the municipal administration. He charges political considerations caused his removal from the detective bureau.

TRIAL OF EX-POSTAL INSPECTOR NEAR CLOSE
Chicago, Nov. 22.—The defense of William J. Fahy, former star postal inspector here; James Murray, Chicago politician, and Walter McComb charged with conspiracy in the $2,000,000 bond-out, 111, train holding last June, will take one day and will be ended tomorrow night, their attorneys indicated to day after the government's case was closed.

Defense testimony, it was indicated, will consist mainly of a few character witnesses for each defendant and Fahy's brilliant record in the postal service will be stressed. All three defendants will take the stand, their attorneys said.

On Ole Time Doctors

DIGGIN' FER THE RIGHT PILL

"I wuz grently interested in your article last week on ole family doctors, writes a reader from Springfield, Ohio, an' then he goes on to say: 'I recall an ole doctor that used to fiddle with my gran'father's family for years, or until they all died in the prime of life.'

"His name wuz Dr. Lemuel Putter, an' he rode about in a high wheel bike, an' I've never seen a yak's tail that'd pull you through it if I kin find it. Then he'd dig in his pockets an' pull out a handful o'

"I've seen him set down by my gran'maw's bed an' listen t' her heart an' nearly pupt her eyes out with his whiskers, an' he'd shake his seed all over th' bed. I 'sented for Dr. Porcupine, gran' mother used t' say, when any o' th' children fell out of a tree, or had their feet cut off by a mower.

"Let me see, he'd say when he went in a sick room, 'I ought t' have a pill that'd pull you through it if I kin find it. Then he'd dig in his pockets an' pull out a handful o'

"baker crumbs an' pills. 'Here we are, he'd say, an' then give th' pill. Maybe th' particular pill he wanted would be in his coat tail pocket, or hip pocket.

"When Dr. Putter got up t' go he filled th' room with dust. He dressed like an arctic explorer, winter an' summer, an' smelled like a combination of spavin liniment an' livery barn, with a little dash o' harness shop thrown in. When he left th' room it smelled like a justice o' th' peace office durin' county fair week.

"Sometimes Dr. Putter's whiskers would be full o' burrs after a trip t' country t' save a cow. In mixed a flaxseed poultice he mixed his whiskers in it. Sometimes he'd file his saw in th' sick room an' have trouble with his whiskers. If he stood in a grocery they got backed in th' beef chopper, an' once he bandaged 'em up with my gran' mother's arm.

"Once Dr. Putter stared at gran' mother's fer dinner, an' oh boy! she had cold sweat.

"I've often tried t' imagine Dr. Putter in a golf uniform, or hoppli' about in some great civic undertaking, but it can't be done. He used much th' same system as th' present day tree doctor in sawin' off an' pluggin' up, yet he pilled considerably, too."

DONAHAY ORDERS DRIVE AGAINST "GUN TOLING"

ASKS CITIZENS TO HELP COLUMBUS, Nov. 22.—Governor Donahay today ordered the waging of a vigorous warfare throughout Ohio against unlawful "gun toling" and the curbing of activities of illegal police organizations.

Sheriffs, police and other officers were directed by the Governor, in a formal proclamation, to take immediate action to enforce the laws against "gun toling," and all citizens were asked to cooperate with the officers.

The Governor's proclamation pointed out that the impression erroneously prevails in the state that members of rural police and protective associations, organized under old laws authorizing their formation and protection against horse thieves and other felons, have the legal right to carry weapons.

BALTIMORE POST WILL FIGHT INDICTMENT FOR NUTTING TAX RETURNS

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 22.—The Baltimore Post, indicted yesterday for publishing income tax returns made preparations today to fight the case.

When the case comes to trial the Post probably will be represented by Hon. S. S. Sidel, general counsel of the Scripps-Howard newspaper, and his law partner, Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war.

United States Attorney Woodcock said efforts would be made to bring the case to trial as speedily as possible.

Volley Ball Championship Games Arranged

Dates have been fixed for a series of three contests to be played for the volleyball championship of the city between the City Champs, members of the Selby Volley Ball League and the Bankers, leaders of the Class A teams in the City Volley Ball League. The dates are December 10, 17, and 20, with the high school gym as the scene of the battle. Three games will be played each evening.

The City Champs will have in their lineup: Fout, Bruce, Stevenson, Griffin, Peters, R. A. Selby and Debo. These players have been on the floor for several seasons and although on different teams a perfect one team that will give the Bankers a real battle. Captain M. Namara of the Bankers will be Drummy, Hopkins, Millard, Henderson and Maesman in his lineup.

The games will be started at 7:30 o'clock.

Selby League
The Selcos team in the Selby Volley Ball League easily defeated the Flax team three consecutive games last night on the Wilhelmetta court. The scores were 21-5; 21-13; 21-16. Poor team work is held accountable for the defeat of the Flaxos.

MORGAN GROUP TO FINANCE BIG LOAN TO FRANCE
Paris, Nov. 22.—The senate and the Chamber of Deputies tonight passed the loan bill under which $100,000,000 are to be advanced to France by American financial interests headed by J. P. Morgan & Company.

The bill passed the Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 535 to 29. In the Senate the vote was unanimous—200 to 0.

The Herriot government was able to rush the loan bill through both houses of parliament in a few hours. The bill authorizes the borrowing of the $100,000,000 for a period of 25 years at seven per cent interest. The issue price of the loan will be 64.

There was much discussion of the measure, but opposition to it was confined to the finance committee of both chambers. The open debate on the bill on the floors of the Senate and the Chamber was tame and subdued.

The 29 votes cast against the bill in the Chamber came from communist deputies.

The reasons given by the government for urgent need for prompt action on the bill were an effort to prevent speculation and a cable dispatch received from the Morgan interests saying the loan could be floated next Monday if parliament ratified the agreement today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Extensive profit taking combined with concerted bear selling drove stock prices lower in today's early trading but subsequent execution of buying orders averting a reaction and renewed accumulation of shares brought about a partial recovery. Many issues yielded 1 to 2 points on the early wave of selling with U. S. Steel from 108 to 107 and Sears Roebuck from 106 to 105. Prices steadied later as operations for the rise were resumed.

MEDICINE

SOME people believe in no medicines. Other people take their medicine doses as regularly as their meals. Both are probably equally in error. Faith-healers, mind-healers, chiropractors, osteopaths and new-thoughters are evidence of the great number of people who doubt the efficacy of medicine in the curing of human ills. Physicians, drug stores, patent medicines and medicine ads are evidence of the equally as great number of believers in the curative powers of medicine.

Chemical research and discovery have proven that the folly of both these groups lies in their fanaticism. Between the two lies a sane and sensible middle course that is based on scientific fact.

On the basis of the advances made in the study of the chemical nature of the human body the American Mercury states: "The more the human body is studied, indeed, the more it becomes obvious that the physical phenomena it displays are largely chemical in their nature, and that they may be modified by purely chemical means."

The scientific world expects a chemist to some day discover what life is. It is known that many processes of the human body are chemical in nature and many believe the spark of life is dependent upon chemical action.

If chemistry will find out for this generation what life is it will at least aid in lengthening life for this generation and a good rule for those who wish to subscribe to some of these securities in longer life is to use as little medicine as possible and to use as much medicine as good health requires.

A COUNSEL OF PERFECTION

A bulletin just issued by the National Safety Council is headed by the question: "What are the qualifications of a safe automobile driver?" In answering the question it sets forth an even score of qualities which to the casual reader would appear to be a counsel of perfection. In fact we feel no risk in making the assertion that there is not a single driver in the world who measures up to the qualifications.

One of the all-embracing requirements is that a driver should be "possessed of all his senses." Two essential senses in a driver are hearing and seeing, and yet recent investigations have proved that these are frequently deficient in applicants for licenses to operate a car. Another quality emphasized by the National Safety Council is "All traffic rules of states, cities and towns through which the car is operated should be observed." A sound injunction, but difficult to follow if a man has any other business requiring attention.

However, it is a good axiom which the council coins: "Accidents do not happen—they are caused," and there are certainly too many of them which are avoidable. In a statement issued this week Secretary of Commerce Hoover gives the latest estimates. These show that during the year 1923 no less than 22,600 persons were killed, 673,000 were injured and property damage of $600,000,000 was incurred in traffic accidents in the United States.

Mr. Hoover has called a national conference on street and highway safety to be held in Washington on December 15, 16 and 17, representatives to which are being chosen from all parts of the country. He expresses the hope that this conference will give the most complete consideration of all phases of the subject ever attempted, and that effective remedies may be suggested for minimizing the appalling national loss.

IGNORING THE LAW

JUDGE MCCLINTIC, of the West Virginia federal district court, is becoming a regular sore bear on the matter of prohibition enforcement. His sentences of infractions have been severe to the extent of being startling in these days when so many courts are lenient and he has accentuated them by denunciation of conditions and individuals.

Last week he caustically arraigned the whole Masonic body of the state for failure to expel those guilty of aiding or encouraging others in the violation of the liquor laws.

Any lodge, which essayed to discipline its members for taking a nip o'moonshine would certainly have a sweet time of it. In the first place there would be the extreme difficulty of establishing the infraction and in the second there would be the fomenting of endless strifes and reprisals.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Crime in New York is at its lowest ebb between midnight and dawn. This is contrary to popular notion. The highest peak is between six and nine in the morning and four and six in the afternoon.

Criminals follow crowds. Vice blooms in congestion. Four girls recently murdered in their apartments were slain in the morning. When pedestrian traffic boils the criminal has the best chance to escape.

Police records show the crook who operates when people have gone to bed is easiest caught. He hasn't the advantage of what the underworld knows as "mass play." If one man sees him on a lone street he faces detection.

Crooks Max, who specialized in snatching jewels and furs from women, committed more than a hundred successful depredations in crowds. He was caught when he snatched a purse from a woman in a deserted subway station after midnight.

In a like manner a cabaret worker was successful when the dance floor was filled and the jazz band blared fortissimo but was untrussed when one of his haunts was almost deserted in the early morning.

Times Square on account of its movement and stir is the most prolific of all fields for the pickpocket. He can lift a leather hand it quickly to his confederate and face his accuser with all the bland equanimity of a country bumpkin.

Central office men say most crooks who have real skill are in bed early unless they have finished some job and are off on a carousal. They are also early risers. Even the burglar now does his best work in daylight hours.

Since Robert C. Benchley gained fame as a humorist, he, like Irvin Cobb, is besieged by those who want him to grace the festal board.

It Made a Difference

A trumpet officer made a call at the home of a pupil whose absence had extended for over a week. "Mike is now past his thirteenth year," said the boy's mother, "and me and his father think he's after havin' schoolin' enough."

"Schoolin' enough?" repeated the officer. "Why, I did not finish my education until I was twenty-three." "Be that so?" said the woman in amazement. Then, reassuringly, after a thoughtful pause: "Well, so, ye see that boy of ours has h-r-o-i-n-g."

The Lowdown

An Iowa girl, en route to visit friends in New York, entered the city by the Hudson Tunnel, then took the subway to their address. "What do you think of the city?" they asked on her arrival. "I couldn't say," she replied, "I've had only a worm's-eye view." The American Legion Weekly.

As we have so often insisted a law has no sanctity in itself. There is no degradation in not observing a law that does not involve some moral obligation, or responsibility, much less is there call to any individual or order to become a crusader for enforcement.

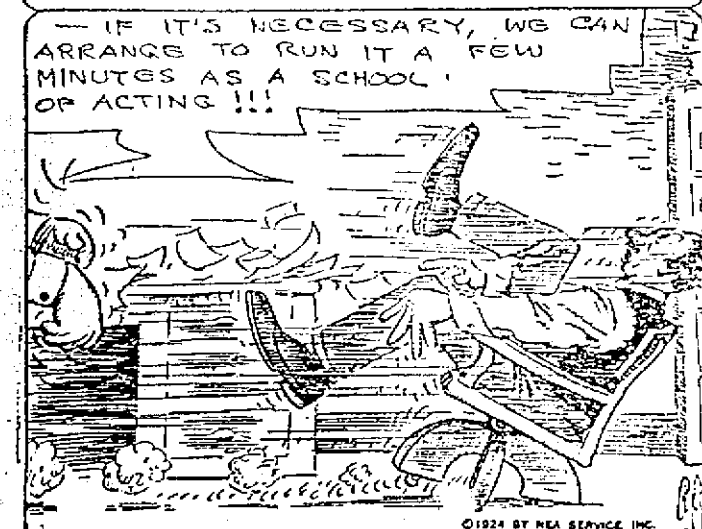

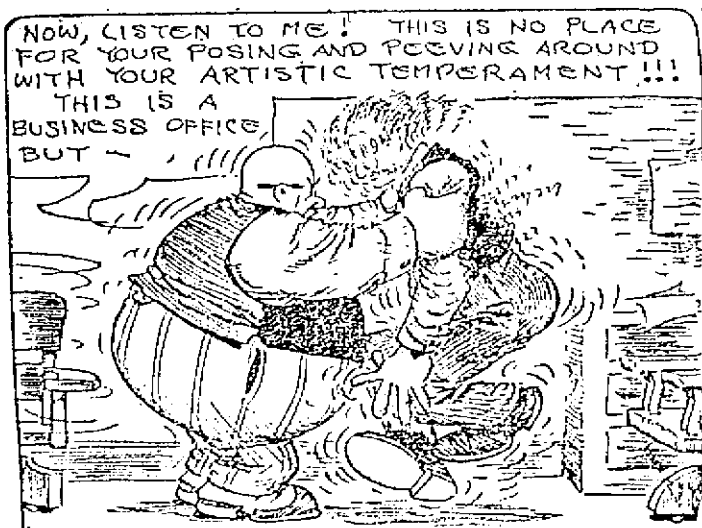

Let us furnish three illustrious instances where ignoring the law may be the part of discretion and great wisdom, with no turpitude whatsoever involved.

There is in the federal statutes a law, which if enforced would cause much feeling towards us among other nations and may be serious damage to our commerce. Passed during the administration of President Wilson, a man of high ideals and stern observer of the covenants, it was ignored by him. President Harding refused to countenance its observance and now the silent and saintly Coolidge has just let it be known that to him it will be as though not written.

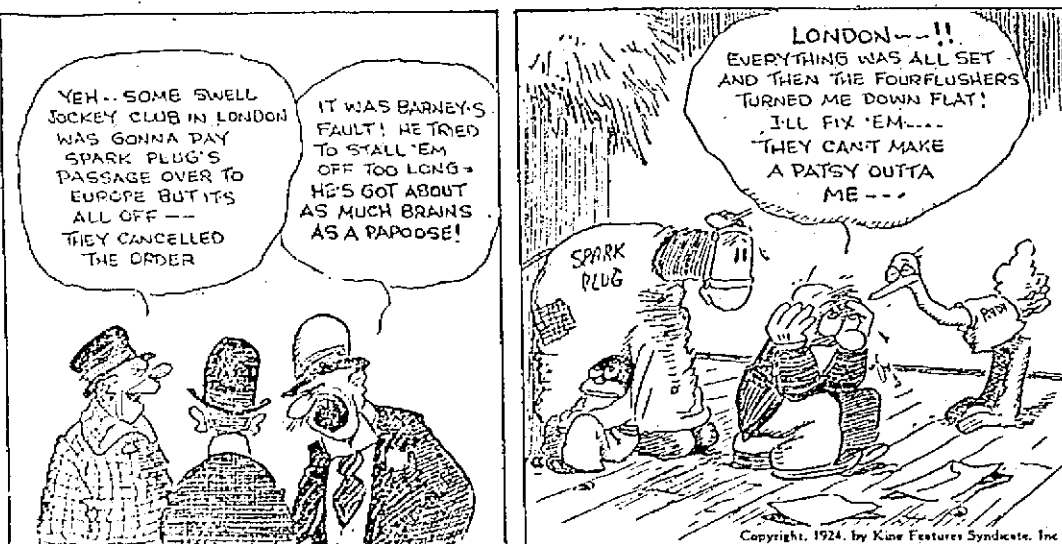

If we had fewer laws, and yet more laws that came of a desire to promote the public weal and not build upon foolish and petty desire to regulate every angle of individual conduct, to vex and harass out of a mere spirit of busy-bodying, we imagine there would be more respect and consequently more observance of the statutes as they are made and provided.

Push

A wealthy motorist drove up to a gasoline station in the South. "Here, boy," he called. "I want some gasoline. Get a move on you! You'll never get anywhere in this world unless you push. When I was young I pushed, and it got me where I am now."

Sudden Money

The Jenks family had worked hard all their lives. After oil had been struck on their land, they hardly knew how to spend the large amount of money that came to them. The father and sons got together to plan a surprise for mother's birthday.

bought mother a new car "so's it'll be easier for her to cut the wood." Everybody's Magazine.

Swift Times

"Who is the man of the hour?" "These are rapid times. No man is in the spotlight for more than twenty minutes."

True Enough

Teacher: "Alice, why do you spell 'bank' with such a big B?"

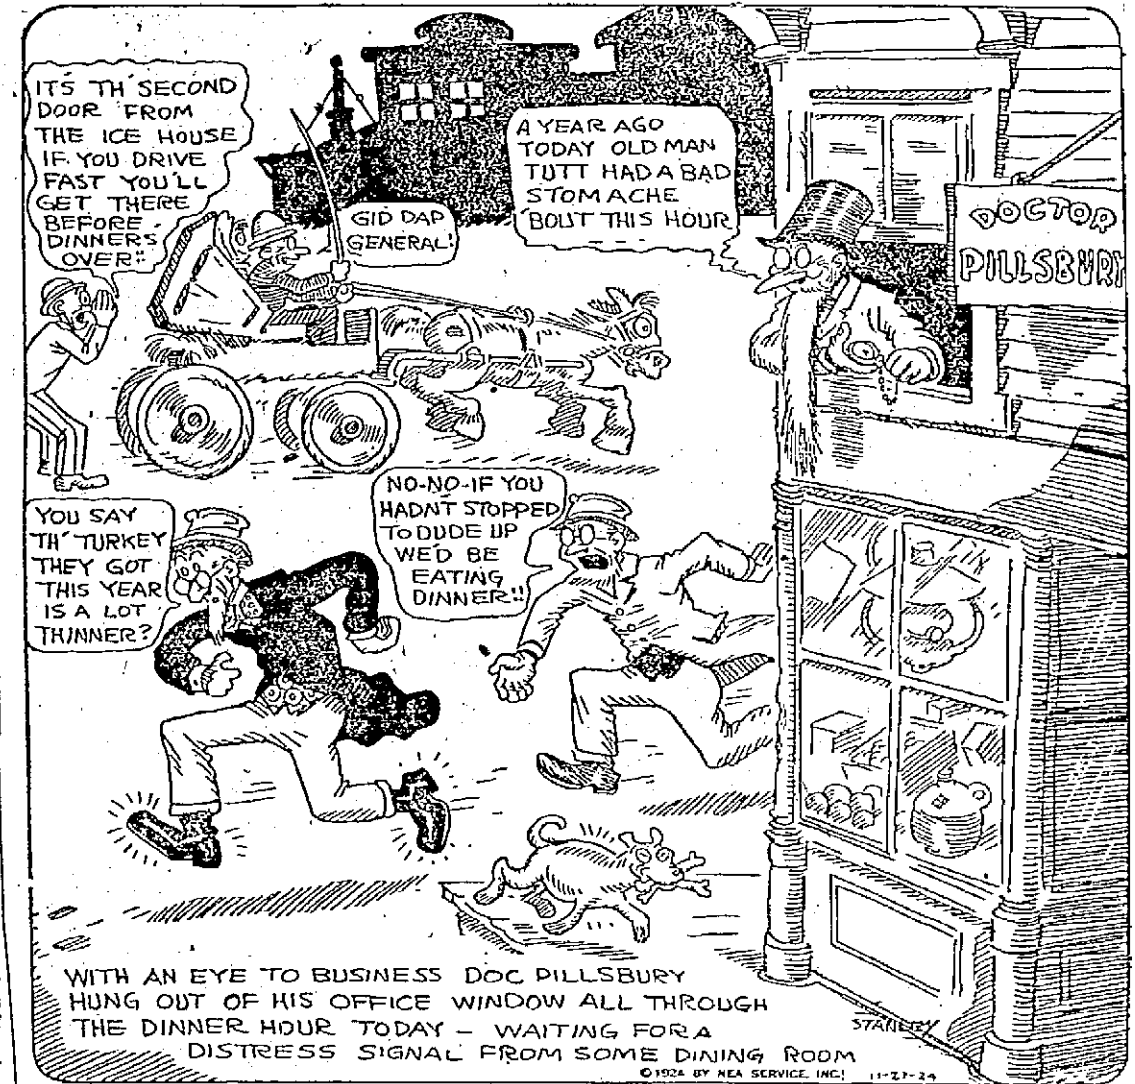

Alice: "'Cause papa said a bank was no 'good unless it had a large capital."
